Zero Tolerance Policy Template

Overview

A Zero Tolerance Policy (ZTP) allows your company to proactively prevent and manage employee behavior that is illegal, inappropriate, or against your organization's Code of Conduct. The Policy provides clear direction for employees and makes it easy to understand when an employee has veered off course. ZTPs encourage positive workplace interactions and empower employees to speak up when they face behavior that violates the Policy. In addition to decreasing unwanted workplace behaviors, your Zero Tolerance Policy also:

- 1. Provides clarity to employees on topics such as workplace behavior and disciplinary processes
- Improves workplace culture and employee performance by making employees feel more psychologically and physically safe at work
- Minimizes organizational risk by reducing unwanted workplace behavior and providing leaders with a method to quickly and effectively resolve conflict

Your company's Zero Tolerance Policy should take into account your unique organizational needs while including specific references to diversity, inclusion, harassment, discrimination, as well as physical and emotional violence in the workplace. Please use the template below to get started creating a new Zero Tolerance Policy.

How to use the template

Diversio and HRPA have partnered to provide you with this template as a way for you to get started on creating a new Zero Tolerance Policy for your organization. A Zero Tolerance Policy is an ideal companion policy to your Code of Conduct.

The template provides a general Zero Tolerance Policy guideline including recommendations for inclusions; however, it can be customized for your organization. You simply download the template, customize it, and it's ready to use. We've also provided additional best practices, as indicated, to demonstrate more opportunities for your organization to add impact and meaning to the policy.
